LACK OF

Continuation of the Debate of Fire Insurance Rates.

ACTION OF THE TWO ASSOCIATIONS

Discussion Respecting the Figures on Preferred Risks.

MERCANTILE POLICIES

The action of the Association of Fire Underwriters of the District at the meeting held yesterday, as stated in The Star, resulted in a declaration that the reduced rates on preferred risks are at once operative and rescinding the action taken at a former meeting advancing t'e rates on mercantile risks 25 per cent. As the situation now is, as far, at least, as it is regulated by this association, the former rates on mercantile risks have been restored. All changes that were made in these rates because of the adoption by the association of the recommendations of the middle departabout this time, secured from one ment are now abrogated, and the rates on such risks are back to the same status as nominal prices, and are strictly high-middle department came to this city.

The only feature of the report of the grade goods of the very latest shapes and designs. Some are plain, others are more or less elaborately trimmed with dainty laces, fine embroideries and wash ribbons, in such styles as appeal to women of refined taste. These goods have been divided into various lots and are offered

Very Much Below Regue

Lar Prices.

The only feature of the report of the middle department retained in the local usage is the abolition of what is known as "relief" and the reduction in the rates on preferred risks. It was felt by the members of the association, who now, with the exception of two local companies that still retain their membership, are exclusively agents of outside companies, that it would be bad policy to allow the new association, which has just been formed by ten local companies to enjoy the advantage of writing mercantile risks at the old rates, while they were adhering to these rates plus an advance of 5 per cent.

Reason for Rescinding.

Reason for Reseinding. So, for this reason, among others, it was decided to rescind the former action favoring such an advance and go back to the old figures. As the new association has not made any change in these rates and announces a purpose not to make the pronounces a purpose not to make the pro-posed advance, the local situation remains, as far as the mercantile risks are con-cerned, exactly as if the middle department committee had never interposed. There is no change in this class of risks, and while there may have been some uncertainty, as far as insurers and insured were concerned, in regard to mercantile rates, the action of the companies doing business here has left them just where they have been for sev-eral years past.

Must Be Approved. It is, of course, understood that while the action of yesterday of the association in regard to the rates is intended to have immediate effect, yet the approval of the middle department must be secured before the changes can be actually operative.

the changes can be actually operative. There was a rumor today that the middle department would not approve the course of the local association, but it was stated by Mr. Meyer Cohen that the middle department had not had a meeting and as yet had taken no action.

One of the leading representatives of outside companies was asked today by a Star reporter if policies on business places could not be cancelled in order that agents might benefit from the proposed increase in the rate. He said that since the meeting of yesterday there was no such a thing as an increased mercantile rate, as the old rates had been restored. But even, he said, if the advance was still in force he did not think it likely that any agent who cancelled a policy in order to raise the rate would have any reasonable expectation of writing the new policy. The insurer, he added, would in all likelihood take his business to some other company.

Lack of Harmony.

Lack of Harmony. While both associations of fire under-writers have now the same rates of mercantile risks, equal harmony does not prevail in the rates on preferred business-that is, houses and furniture. The association, composed of the agency companies and two composed of the agency companies and two local companies, offers to write preferred business at 15 cents and 25 cents per $100, while the association composed of local companies has made no change in existing rates, which are 25 and 40 cents. As the great bulk of those risks are now carried by the local companies, the purpose of the policy adopted by the agency companies, it is thought is to endeavor to get as much of policy adopted by the agency companies, it is thought, is to endeavor to get as much of this business as possible. The reduction in rates, it is believed, will accomplish such a purpose. However, the local companies are not apprehensive of such a result, for the reason that their organizations are managed by local men, and insurers anticipate the treatment which such identity with the city gives.

It is claimed by the agency companies that they are not going to force a war of rates, in fact, deprecate such a course, but at the same time it is realized that the situation is a perilous one and full of possibilities of a warlike rature.

New Association Organized.

At a meeting of the representative of ten local companies this morning an association was formed to be known as the board of Fire Underwriters of Washington, D. C. The following were chosen officers: President. C. W. Howard, of the Firemen's dent, C. W. Howard, of the Firemen's Company; vice president, Philip F. Larner of the National Union; secretary, Lem. Towers, jr., of the Columbia; treasurer, W. P. Boteler of the Franklin.

A committee was appointed to draft sultable by-laws and report at the next meeting. It was decided that the established rates before the proposed changes by the other associations shall be maintained. At the close of the meeting the following statement was made of the sentiments that animate those forming the new association:

The Statement Made. "The ten local companies which have severed their connection with the board of fire underwriters of the District of Columbia have decided to form an organization, inviting into its membership all companies doing business in the District who desire to conduct the business on business principles—that is, the obtaining of an ade-desire to conduct the business on business principles—that is, the obtaining of an adequate rate for the proper maintenance of the business and payment of losses in full when the same shall have been incurred.

"The contention of the companies forming this organization is that the insuring public has never objected to the payment of a fair rate for premiums on both the preferred and non-preferred class of business, and on this principle they hold that the rates as fixed before the late action of the board of fire underwriters, were no more than the exigencies of the business required. Statistics are easily obtainable to show that Washington, in common with all the other principal cities, has had to stand its share of the great loss that insurance companies have had to bear during the last few years, with a fire loss during the past year in this country of more than $10,000,000 in excess of all premiums received. The companies that have withdrawn from the board took this position to accentuate the fact that the proposed reduction in rates was inopportune and ill-advised, and was urged on by the companies pressing the change in the desire that the local companies who would be largely affected by the proposed reduction would be driven in self defense to sever their connection with the local board, and others given the agency companies.

"An opportunity—which they have long sought—to make a raid upon the business of the locals, which has been built up and fostered by the work of the local directors and officers of home companies.

Resist a Cut in Rates.

"While the companies which have retired from the local organization have and will preferred business, they have also expressed themselves adverse to arbitrarily pressed themselves adverse to arbitrarily serialse, by 25 per cent, the rate on mercantile risks, and stood prepared to carry these risks at the present rates. That this position is 3 right one is clearly demonstrated by the fact that the proposed action of the retiring companies has caused the companies remaining with the board to withdraw their demand for the proposed increase, and thus secure to our merchants the renewal of their insurance at present rates. It is the belief of the companies that a proper understanding of the situation by the insuring public of the District will se-

MENACE TO HEALTH.

Citizen Complains of the Running of Heavy Cars. Hardly a day has passed of late that the District Commissioners have not been in receipt of one or more complaints respect-ing the heavy cars of the Washington Traction Company and the speed at which the cars of the corporation are run. Mr.

the cars of the corporation are run. Mr. Henry Franc of 736 5th street is the latest complainant, complaining of the heavy cars run by the company on 5th street.

Such cars, he charges, are an intolerable source of discomfort when running through the narrow streets of the city, the passing of such cars, with needless clanging of gengs, not only producing nerve-racking noises, but also causing nelghboring houses to vibrate to their very foundation. The smaller cars are comparatively noiseless to vibrate to their very foundation. The smaller cars are comparatively noiseless and unobjectionable, he says, but he contends that the heavy cars constitute a menace to health and a hindrance to the enjoyment of the rights of citizens.

"A nuisance, in short," he states, "of which your board should take cognizance. This condition is aggravated in my case by the fact that cars after crossing the intersecting line at New York avenue, run the square from I to H street at high speed, often exceeding the lawful limit, and with set brakes and scraping wheels coast shricking down 5th street preparatory to stopping at the G street curve."

Chester court were today convicted in the Police Court of engaging in an affray. The Police Court of engaging in an affray. The former, according to the evidence, seemed to have been the aggressor. Much excitement was caused in the vicinity by the affair, and Judge Taylor fined Mamie Harris $20, with the alternative of sixty days in jail. In default of payment of a fine of $10 the Robinson woman went down under commitment for thirty days.
